Foreword

"In the dim haze of the distant future, a gray-haired man, fast passing into the winter of life, will take from the top-most shelf of his library a dusty volume, tattered and worn by the hands of curious children, and there in the dull glow of the dying embers he will live again the halcyon days of his college career.

"This little volume is published neither for literary critics nor the unsympathetic public. Here has been made merely an attempt to record the serious and the humorous, the work and the play of the Class of '22, so that in the years to come, when we look back in reverie, we shall have the printed page and the laughing picture to recall the glorious deeds of our past youth."

CLYDE O. LAW

Clyde O. Law, A. B.

*"Heaven is not reached by a single bound;
We build the ladder by which we rise
From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,
And we mount to its summit round by round."*

It is with a particular pleasure that the Class of '22 hereby dedicates this the seventeenth volume of the MURMURMONTIS to Mr. Clyde O. Law—a man with the highest of ideals, with the patriotism of a true American and the character of a Christian gentleman. In times past he has proved to be a true friend to Wesleyan College. To us falls the distinction of expressing our appreciation and of bestowing upon him the honor that is ours to confer. "It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this." Mr. Law is a native of Lawford, in Ritchie County, West Virginia. He received his preparatory training in Wesleyan Academy and graduated from the College proper in 1909. Two years he spent in teaching school, after which he attended the Graduate School of Business Administration in connection with Harvard University, graduating there in 1913.

After his advent from Harvard, he entered the life insurance business in Clarksburg, representing the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. His work was characterized by rapid progress, and after two years he entered into a partnership with George Paul Roberts, a former Wesleyan man. On January 1, 1920, the firm of Law & Roberts became general agents for the State, with their headquarters in Wheeling, where they are making an unparalleled success in the insurance field. It looks as though they have the business ability of seeing things as they are and doing them as they ought to be done.

In 1914 Mr. Law married Miss Maude Lininger, a former Wesleyan girl. On October 20, 1920, they became the proud parents of a splendid baby daughter.

Besides his business interests, Mr. Law was especially active in patriotic work during the World War, being chairman of the Red Cross of Harrison County, as well as active in every loan campaign. He also has allied himself closely with religious work while both in Clarksburg and in Wheeling.

When the Alumni Association went in search of a capable leader it centered its choice on the selection of our friend, who has since instilled into it a large percentage of his interest and enthusiasm, making it a stronger factor than ever in the history of West Virginia Wesleyan. By reason of having been elected to the Board of Trustees, he is becoming more and more influential in the progress of the College.

We cannot adequately express a verbal tribute our benefactor justly deserves. The development of a Greater Wesleyan to the highest standards attainable will be a living monument to the spirit of his work.

Wallace B. Fleming

Victory for Wesleyan is never far distant when the "crow's-feet" appear on the temples of our beloved President. His virile brain has never failed us in the crucial hour. Added to his superior ability as a constructive administrator, Dr. Fleming possesses a magnetic personal power arising from an unmistakable heartiness in his expression, in his smile, in his handshake, in all that he says and does. In the art of pleasing his is the master's crown. With a perfect poise of manner, with a delightful directness of speech, with a ready sympathy for all, his presence is irresistible. Since 1915 Wesleyan has profited by the undivided efforts of this gifted son of Methodism. Each link in the chain of unparalleled progress has been fashioned and wrought by this natural leader of men. Today the patrons and students of Wesleyan are ready to attempt whatever he wills, for we know that with his breadth of vision he has the invaluable faculty of accomplishment.

The school has been deprived of an inspiring personal contact with Dr. Fleming for an extended period this year. In the distant land of the setting sun he has labored, with characteristic success, to advance the cause of Christian education. While we have missed the cheer and encouragement of his association, we know that others have been made glad by our deprivation. When Puget Sound called for a representative we sent our best.

*"So, while light delays
He seeks the fittest word to fill his phrase;
Nor vain nor idle his fastidious quest,
His chosen word is sure to prove the best."*

PRESIDENT WALLACE B. FLEMING

Thomas W. Haught, A. M.

*"Types of the wise who soar, but never roam;
True to the kindred points of Heaven and Home."*

—Wordsworth.

Wisdom, foresight and strength of will displayed in an executive and judicial capacity are qualities which bespeak success in any leader. Such in a marked degree are the possessions of our Dean. A native product and for many years connected with the institution in an official capacity, he is the true type of the Wesleyan spirit.

Dean Haught is well qualified for his work. In 1894 he graduated from the West Virginia Seminary. His A. B. bears the seal of West Virginia University, 1896; his A. M. was conferred by our own institution. He has done two years' post-graduate work in chemistry at Harvard and Johns Hopkins. Twenty more years in the school of experience have given us an executive of whom we are justly proud.

A greater and a better Wesleyan is the flame of his hopes and aspirations. Firmly planted on the vantage ground of Truth, he is never diverted from his aims by problems of any degree of perplexity. At times a mark for criticism, as any executive must be, it is a pleasure to see his superior judgment invariably forge to the front. Those who know him best trust him most. It is noble to give one's life in foreign service; it is heroic to give up a life on a battle-field for human rights; but what can be more deserving of praise than to live one's threescore years in a single community directing aright those lives which come under one's influence. This is the work of Dean Haught at Wesleyan.

Academic Faculty

The academic work in West Virginia Wesleyan College is up to the standard of any similar kind of instruction given anywhere. Instruction in this department is intended to prepare the student for college entrance and to afford a general training to those who are not able to complete a college course.

Students of the academy possess advantages which could not be found elsewhere. The academic student in his contact with college folks, college functions and college organizations has his horizon inevitably widened. This could hardly help being a great impetus to ambition. Students in Wesleyan Academy are heirs to the traditions of the past, the history of the present and the ineffable hopes of the future—heirs to the visible embodiment of certain invisible influences.

The administrative powers have deviated from the customs of the past concerning the instructors of the academy. For the first time in the history of the school the chairs of the different departments have been filled entirely by college upper classmen. The distinction and honor have fallen to those who have made a creditable record in the past and who are capable of giving instruction in the subject they have been assigned. To pass upon the efficacy of the new plan is left to those "in authority over us," but no serious complaints have come from them, and quo jure can they defer credit to those brave souls who have done their best.

GUSTAVA LOUISE SHAFFER,
A. B. ("SHAFFER")
Terra Alta, W. Va.

T. A. H. S. '17, Excelsior, Y. W. C. A.
Cabinet, MURMURMONTIS '21.

It is an impossibility for us to portray all the talents, virtues and charms of Louise. She is an excellent student and has a gracious and lovable personality, which will add unrivaled successes in her chosen field of journalism.

J. BRUCE McWHORTER, A. B.
Buckhannon, W. Va.

Cowen H. S. '17, Y. M. C. A., Excelsior, Wesleyan Debating Club, member Athletic Council, President Senior Class '21, MURMURMONTIS Staff '21.

Such a man is worthy of the presidency of any class. He is a profound thinker, logical reasoner and matchless organizer. With his departure Wesleyan will lose one of the best fellows that have ever attended school here. There is no doubt whatever but his career in Harvard will reflect honor on his old Alma Mater.

GLYDE BAILEY, A. B.

Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '15, Normal '17, Chresto,
Y. W. C. A.

This quiet brown-eyed girl is a most valued member of our class. A more loyal and devoted student in Wesleyan would be hard to find. Glyde was never known to lose her temper or speak ill of any one. She is quiet, studious, and always knows her lessons.

JAMES L. HARVEY, A. B.

("CAP")

Buckhannon, W. Va.

Glenville Normal, Wesleyan Academy '16, President Chresto '20, President Wesleyan Debating Club '21, A. E. F. Club, Officer U. S. Army, Student Manager Baseball '20-'21.

Everybody knows "Cap," the Pecks Run idol. This is a man of extreme executive ability. He has been President of the Chrestomathean Literary Society. He has a variegated vocabulary of jaw-breaking words, and very frequently a glossary is required to get a full meaning of his statements.

KATHARINE ELIZABETH
BERRY, A. B. ("KATIE")
Sutton, W. Va.

S. H. S. '15, Treasurer Y. W. C. A.
21, MURMURMONTIS '21.

Her manners are so pleasing and kindly that she makes friends of all with whom she meets. When it comes to class spirit and genuine interest in what is going on "Katie" is right there with the goods, and any mention of a quitter is sure to bring forth an expression of extreme disgust from her august self. Her future is illumined with success.

FRANKLIN SMITH LOWTHER,
A. B. ("SMITTY")
Mannington, W. Va.

M. H. S. '17, Men's Glee Club, Wesleyan Debating Club, Excelsior, Cheer Leader '20-'21, Y. M. C. A., Student Manager Basket-ball '20.

Short in stature but mighty in spirit. In "Smitty" there is combined a beautiful mixture of music and noise—music for the Glee Club and noise and pep for any sort of athletic contests. When it comes to fun or any sort of pranks "Smitty" is right there. He is Wesleyan through and through, and if you don't believe it, start something.

EMMA LEVINA SHUMAKER,
A. B. ("BETTY")
Buchannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Chresto, Y. W. C. A.,
Girls' Basket-ball, Secretary
Senior Class.

Born in Buckhannon and dwelling there ever since, "Betty" early entered Wesleyan and early became a general favorite. She plays a spectacular game at guard (seeming to be in her favorite position). Her future will be a "Stark" reality.

MAHRE H. STARK, A. B.
Charleston, W. Va.

C. H. S. '17, Chresto, Varsity Club,
Varsity Athletics, Captain Baseball '21, Wesleyan Masonic Club.

This lad hails from the Capital City and is indeed a capital fellow.
We hesitate to speak for his future, for what he may be does not yet appear. He has showed true Wesleyan spirit on the basket-ball floor, the grid and the diamond, and the Class of '21 is indeed proud of his record.

ETHEL GRACE WILSON, A. B.
Buckhannon, W. Va.

M. H. S. '17, Chresto, Y. W. C. A.,
Girls' Glee Club, MURMURMONTIS
'21.

Her manners are so pleasing and kind that she makes friends with all whom she meets. Her popularity as a teacher is already unquestionably evidenced in Buckhannon High School. She will be an instructor of whom old Wesleyan will always be proud.

RAYMOND S. DECK, A. B.
Buckhannon, W. Va.

J. M. H. S., Wesleyan Academy '17,
Varsity Tennis '20, Y. M. C. A.,
Chresto.

One of the popular members of the "Kampus - Musishen - Klub." In Senior Class basket-ball Captain Deck has led his team to an indisputable championship. The entire Class wishes him the best of success in his initial adventure of presiding over a classroom.

MARY MARGARET SIGAFOOSE,
A. B. ("MARG")
Moundsville, W. Va.

M. H. S. '17, Chresto, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, Girls' Glee Club, President Y. W. C. A. '20, Vice-President Senior Class, MURMURMONTIS '21.

She has a keen sense of humor but is never frivolous, and her dignity is a good example for many others. She has never attempted anything in which she did not succeed, and we have reason to believe she will continue in the same manner. Her place in Wesleyan will be hard to fill.

JOSEPH C. HOFFMAN, A. B.
("JOE")
Davis, W. Va.

D. H. S. '17, President Y. M. C. A., Chresto, Wesleyan Debating Club, MURMURMONTIS '21, Ministerial Association, member Athletic Council.

For our "Joe" we predict a most brilliant future. Possessing that faculty of clear articulation which makes what he says sound like the only true thing ever uttered, he will certainly attain to the highest position which the Methodist Church can bestow upon her true followers—namely, the bishopric.

THELMA DAWSON, A. B.
("DOSS")

Richwood, W. Va.

W. I. H. S. '18, Excelsior, Y. W.
C. A. Cabinet, Editor "Pharos"
'21, MURMURMONTIS Staff '21.

A busy young maid and a very conscientious student. Her work in class has made her a favorite to all who know her. She is a gifted elocutionist and her readings have charmed many. Thelma is an interested "Y. W." worker, especially when it comes to getting new members and furnishing artistic posters.

PERRY EMMET O'BRIEN, B. S.
("JUDGE")

Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Excelsior, Y. M. C. A.,
Men's Glee Club, MURMURMONTIS
Staff '21, Band.

A distinguished-looking gentleman with a keen, sagacious mind. He possesses a temper unruffled except by "wimmen." He shows executive ability in his position as President of the Epworth League, and his duties there prevent active participation in other college events.

MARY ELIZABETH SWISHER,
A. B. ("BETTY")
Buckhannon, W. Va.

Lewisburg Seminary, Wesleyan
Academy '17.

Sedate and demure, yet no heart
can be truer in all Wesleyan.
Her chief bent seems to be toward home economics, with special emphasis on the "home."
One of her most attractive features is her smile, which is copyrighted for all intents and purposes.

EMERY D. WISE, B. S.
Fairview, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Excelsior, Wesleyan
Debating Club, Vice-President
Y. M. C. A., Wesleyan Masonic Club.

He is a mathematical genius as well as a chemistry shark, and if he doesn't blow his head off before June he ought to land a pretty good job somewhere mixing "dopes" until his dream of Johns Hopkins and the rest comes true.

ICIE HOPE CLARK, A. B.
("ICIE HOPE")
Hemlock, W. Va.

W. V. W. Academy '17, Normal '20,
Vice-President Chresto '21, Y. W.
C. A. Cabinet, Treasurer Senior Class, MURMURMONTIS '21.

In any affair of the college life Icie is one of the hardest workers and makes a success of everything she tries. Her recent experience teaching in Wesleyan Academy proves that the schools of West Virginia are to receive an inimitable teacher. Icie says all the Clarks either marry or receive a degree, and Icie seems to be getting the degree.

AMOS ADDISON THORNBURG,
A. B.
Parsons, W. Va.

Gassaway H. S. '18, W. V. U.,
Chresto, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet,
Vice-President Webster Debating
Club, Ministerial Association.

Amos has made for himself a reputation as a singer. We predict for this youth unquestioned success, due to the perfect blending of his musical and collegiate abilities. He is a brilliant student, with equable and obliging characteristics.

ORPAH C. HAYMOND, A. B.
("WILLIE")
Grafton, W. Va.

G. H. S. '17, Chresto, Y. W. C. A.,
MURMURMONTIS '21.

Popular in society circles and at the Agnes Howard Hall. She is both jolly and serious, with a marked tendency toward the former. She is turning the tables in Grafton from W. V. U. to W. V. W. C., and of her type may there be no end. She has done great things in a quiet manner, and thus she has won the admiration of the entire class, young men not excluded.

EGBERT E. McWHORTER, A. B.
Buckhannon, W. Va.

Cowen High, Wesleyan Academy
'18, Excelsior, Webster Debating Club, Men's Glee Club.

This light-haired, rosy-cheeked young man is as merry as the day is long. His whole-hearted interest in all things concerning the Class of '21 has made him a favorite with all his classmates. He is another of the adept musicians and can always be depended upon where there is music needed. His industry and integrity characterize him for a successful future.

MARY FLORENCE HANNAH,

A. B.

Marlinton, W. Va.

Marshall College '12, Chresto, Y. W.
C. A.

A real student, a dependable worker and an unassuming character. She has shown exceptional judgment in joining the Class of '21, and the class members are greatly elated to count her among the "great." She has already spent some time in the pedagogical world and will doubtless return to it next year.

HERBERT K. BOSLEY, A. B.

(H. K.)

Davis, W. Va.

D. H. S. '16, W. V. U., Editor and Chief MURMURMONTIS '21, Y. M.
C. A., Wesleyan Debating Club,
Chresto.

It takes all sorts to make a world and Herbert seems to be a distinct "sort" by himself. He is an exceedingly quiet, unpretentious youth, with some exceptions. Femininity does not receive much recognition in his profound thoughts. But we have heard it whispered that he has been seen with a dashing felicity many times during the past year.

JULIET GRACE NUTTER, B. S.
("JEW")

West Union, W. Va.

W. U. H. S. '17, Chresto, Y. W. C. A.

To see her you would not think she was a Senior, she is so quiet and modest, but nevertheless such is the case. She is a faithful worker in Chresto, and her never failing attendance is an inspiration to all who take part.

FORREST DAYTON DOUGLAS,
A. B. ("DOUG")

Buckhannon, W. Va.

Wesleyan Academy '19, Webster Debating Club, President Chresto '21, Y. M. C. A., Literary Editor "Pharos" '21.

Forest is a utilitarian. He has been everything and can do anything from intercollegiate debating to taking the chapel roll. He is an A-plus student, and one of that sort who causes the profs. to wear a haunted look from trying to think up some unanswerable question. His oratorical qualities are above and over the ordinary.

ALLENE CUTRIGHT, B. S.
("CUTTY")

Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '18, Chresto, Y. W. C. A.

Always sees the point of a joke first, and always laughs longest and heartiest. Her long shot is in domestic art, and in the kitchen she will be a queen. Lucky will be the high school that secures the services of this young lady.

M. TAMBLYN HAMRICK, A. B.
("HICK")

Clarksburg, W. Va.

W. Va. W. Academy '14, Wesleyan Normal '15, Chresto, Y. M. C. A., Webster Debating Club, Student Manager Basket-ball '21, Football Trainer '20, Varsity Club.

The member of our class that claims he has been here since the trees were in their infancy. To "Hick" athletics is as essential to the life of this school as the presence of "Tommy" Haught. A keen mind, a commanding personality and an unusual amount of "gab" make him a general favorite.

AMELIA BETH DARNALL, B. S.
("BETH")
Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Excelsior, Y. W. C. A.

Pedagogy is her major. The Miss Darnall you meet at a reception and the Beth whom you know intimately seem like two different persons. She is a great favorite among the boys as well as the girls. Her wealth of auburn hair is the envy of the fair maidens of the campus.

PAUL SCOTT HARSBARGER.
A. B. ("PAP")
Milton, W. Va.

G. D. H. S. '17, President Men's Glee Club, Wesleyan Debating
Club, Excelsior, Y. M. C. A.,
Bugler Shroyer's Army.

In singing he excels, for he is President of the College Glee Club. Despite his shortness of stature, he has climbed high in the roll of honors. He has swayed audiences, baffled professors, and dictated the policies of his society—which he has served as President—namely, Excelsior.

HUGH B. GIBSON, A. B.
("GIBBY")

Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Y. M. C. A., Excelsior.

Hugh has a quiet disposition and is far from indifferent to the fair sex. He is engaged in a noble work, and loses no time in furthering the work in which he is engaged. He seems to be scientifically inclined and will certainly be heard from in some glowing age of the future.

FREDERICK MASON, A. B.
Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Shroyer's Army.

A man with a mathematical mind and a late turn of sociability. He is very quiet and unassuming. Compared with Mason an Ipswich "Clam" is the most loquacious bird in the beach.

JOHN W. MATHENEY, A. B.
("RAT")
Clendenin, W. Va.

C. H. S. '17, Band, Glee Club,
Chresto, Y. M. C. A., Editor-in-Chief "Pharos" '20.

John has made for himself a reputation as a singer. He has a remarkable voice and is a valued member of the Men's Glee Club. He is some tenor singer, and his presence in the Kampus Kats makes them sound like grand opera. May his tribe increase.

GUY P. ROLLINS, B. S.
("BEETLE")
Buckhannon, W. Va.

B. H. S. '17, Excelsior.

Guy serves the entire college world in the up-to-the-minute book store of W. A. Fowkes. However, it is not this entirely for which he is noted. We predict a mathematical career par excellence, with part time devoted to his chosen hobby of boxing and wrestling.

JOHN H. BOLTON, A. B.

Buckhannon, W. Va.

Wesleyan Academy, Y. M. C. A.,
Chresto, Ministerial Association.

John is the ladies' man of the Class of '21, having had cases beyond the power of human mind to compute. He has made himself indispensable at the hall, and since his triumphal entry no affair there is complete without him. He has more business than a Mulligan book agent, and it is reported that he kept late hours during his sojourn at Benwood. He is a teacher in embryo and will wake up some morning to find himself famous.

FREDERICK DAVIES BUTTEN-
BAUM, A. B. ("BOOTS")

Town of Union, N. J.

Union High '15, Columbia University, Chresto, Y. M. C. A., Glee Club, Wesleyan Debating Club, Ministerial Association, Reserve Football, Wesleyan Masonic Club.

"Boots" is as puzzling as the Sphinx. He is the buzzing mosquito from New Jersey. He is an athlete of some renown. "Boots" spends a busy day of twenty-four hours, not more than three-fourths among the ladies, and the other fourth seeking other worlds to conquer.

HAROLD M. HERBERT, A. B.
Hillsdale, N. J.

Westwood High, Pennington Seminary, Drew Theological Seminary, Wesleyan Debating Club, Y. M. C. A., Chresto, Ministerial Association.

This stately sedate "old" bachelor, who hails from Drew, has certainly made a reputable record during his one year at Wesleyan. He has been intensely active in every organization except the Ladies' Hall, and we fancy if he had been in a certain other school that might also have been included. One of the embryonic ministers of the Methodist Church, and one of whom she might well be proud.

MARTIN E. HAMRICK, A. B.
("MART")

Webster Springs, W. Va.

Chresto, Y. M. C. A., Webster Debating Club.

If you ever hear a masculine voice making use of very big words, and lots of them, in a decidedly oratorical manner, you may be sure it is "Mart" Hamrick. He finished his work during the past summer, so has not favored us with his presence during this school year. Newburgh High School claims him as its principal.

L. FORMAN WARD, A. B.
("TOMMY")
Volga, W. Va.

Wesleyan Academy '16, Chresto,
Y. M. C. A., Class Basket-ball.

Tommy is one of the best-natured fellows we know. He has served Wesleyan in athletics for several years. Next year he will be missed in more ways than one, especially by a certain Miss.

JOHN C. TURNER, A. B.
Beverly, W. Va.

Y. M. C. A., Excelsior, Webster Debating Club, Ministerial Association.

John has been away from the Wesleyan crowd this year, having held an appointment in the Iowa Conference. We predict that he will be the first member of the Class of '21 to embark on the sea of connubial felicity.

Senior Class Editorial

*"Happier the thrifty blindfold labor,
With upturned eye while the hand is busy,
Not sliding a glance at the coin of their neighbor—
'Tis looking downward that makes one dizzy."*

The Class of '21 is characterized by business ability, perseverance and optimism—the essentials of efficiency. Every college in its times of stress realizes the necessity of turning to the real power back of the institution. Wesleyan has realized the source of this power since the fall of 1917, when the Class of '21 made its presence felt, and in positively no instance has this constituency failed to offer its earnest efforts to the services of "Old Wesleyan."

Members of the Class of '21 have always been called upon to fill the positions of responsibility in the student body. The presidents of the majority of the College organizations are members of the Senior class.

Under the administration of J. Bruce McWhorter, we are endeavoring toward "that perfect star" whose beams we cannot see without great self-sacrifice and effort, and with such strength in leadership we shall not fail to reach it.

We are not leaving the walls of Wesleyan without the usual feeling of sadness that commencement time brings, but on the other hand we are not looking to the future through old-fashioned glasses. Fully realizing how relatively small has been our contact with the realities of life, we turn our thoughts to "loftier things than our world suspects." Our philosophy of life is expressed in our motto, "Ad astra per aspera."

We have pledged our allegiance to our Alma Mater, and when we are graduated from this great Hall of Learning we shall be faithful to any task Wesleyan may require of us. Whether at home or abroad we shall boast the glories of our College, and mortals shall learn of her wondrous works in "Jerusalem, in Judea and in the uttermost parts of the earth."

Junior Class Editorial

*"The highest thing we can attain is not knowledge,
But sympathy with intelligence."*

Perfect was the weather; one of those autumnal days when nature with all its abundance of grain and ungathered fruit suggests that even yet there are unperformed tasks in the Divine plan. It was in September of 1918 when modern historians reached for their calendars and enclosed within the limits of a huge circle the figure "10."

On this day, perfect in all respects, there entered into the life of West Virginia Wesleyan College 211 eager, energetic young students so diversified in talents and personality that their summation was a compact, unified, harmonious whole. The Class of '22 entered Wesleyan during the most chaotic period of the world's history. Amidst the problems of increased production and the struggle of nations in a world war, these students took up their work with the idea of thereby being better prepared to serve in the period of reconstruction.

It can be said of the Class that ever since they have been without a peer with regard to student activities and organizations attendant to college life. We are well represented on athletic teams, literary societies, debating clubs, and musical organizations of various kinds. These facts we do not claim. We just admit them.

It is a matter of historical pride that we have never been worsted in an inter-class rush. Our flag has yet to be lowered at the command of a superior foe. In our Freshman year we were held intact by a well-organized force of superior numbers. Last year by quick thinking and keen strategy we were able to retain our position, much to the discomfiture of the lower classmen.

Jolly Juniors are we, for we are truly a happy bunch. Our parties and outings have been characterized by frolicking good times. Invariably they reoccur in the mind as incidents pleasant to think upon. Of the big social event of the year, the Junior and Senior banquet, may it be said that Solomon in all his court splendor did not have a feast like one of these.

To attempt to prophesy the ultimate attainment of all the members of this class would be as impossible as to analyze another's day dreams. "I should strive in vain. They shall follow where the bark of their fancy goes, from the land that no man seeth to the land that no man knows."

Our stay in Wesleyan has been pleasant. May it bring pleasure to others as well. To us it has been beneficial. May it prove beneficial to humanity at large. We shall leave our Alma Mater with a feeling of sincere love and a realization of what is meant by the true Wesleyan spirit. Of the Class may this be said: "That it has filled its niche and has accomplished its task by leaving the world better than it found it; that it has looked for the best in others and has given them the best it had; that its life was an inspiration, its memory a benediction."

Sophomore Class Editorial

When the Class of '23 entered Wesleyan in the fall of 1919 it was one of the largest ever enrolled and since then our achievements have been great. We came through our Freshman year with our brightness undulled and with very few blemishes.

We have made a good record both in athletics and scholarship. This year seven men on the Varsity football squad and four on the first basket-ball team were Sophomores. We defeated the Freshmen in a tug-of-war, and since then have zealously guarded the front door of the College Hall and any Freshman who enters there "leaves hope behind."

Our officers for this year are: President, Dick Thompson; Vice-President, Arthur Upton; Secretary, Florence Carroll, and Treasurer, Marion Fortney.

No class in school takes a more active part in the roll of student activities than we. In the debating clubs, literary societies, "Y. M." and "Y. W." are members to be found in countless numbers performing the duties of capable leaders and willing workers.

May the Class of '23 continue its progress under such standards already performed and be a class among classes upon which Wesleyan can look with pride.

Freshman Class Editorial

Little did Wesleyan know what an illustrious and congenial group of young men and women she was to welcome on September 13, 1920, in the present Freshman Class—the Class of '24. We came from the several parts of the United States, bringing with us many talents. Our members are to be found in all the clubs and organizations of Wesleyan, efficiently filling their respective positions. We are proud of our athletes, who in the future will surely bring home glory to their Alma Mater. Especially are we proud of the Interclass basket-ball records, having won almost our entire schedule.

Many and varied have been the schemes worked on us by the upper classmen. Extremely torturous and painful was the initiation of the new girls at the Agnes Howard Hall. A tug-of-war was decided upon between the Sophomore and Freshman classes, the Freshmen pulling for the privilege of entering the main door of the College building the remainder of the school year. Sorry to relate, we received the worst end of the bargain. Yea, we were sorely tried, but our spirit is much alive and still undaunted. Beware! It shall yet show itself!

Late in September our Class organized, and our chosen officers have run well the race set before them. Under their leadership we have attained heights otherwise impossible.

We have striven to be stanch and loyal sons and daughters of our Alma Mater. Whether or not we have succeeded is for others to decide. We have been here but a year. In the years before us our hope is to prove that Wesleyan's ideals are our ideals, and that her desires are ours. We hope that three years from now, as we look back over our College days, they shall have been days of ever-broadening knowledge and lasting influence. So with patience, perseverance and grit may we steadily work forward for the success of Wesleyan and the Class of '24.

Senior Class Editorial

We, the Class of '21, feel ourselves congratulated in the fact that we have as Class sponsor Prof. W. R. Grose, Superintendent of the Buckhannon city schools. Professor Grose is recognized as one of the foremost educators of the State.

Owing to conditions which prevailed during the war, we did not organize until the fall of 1919. Of the nineteen members of last year only ten remain, but from the addition of new members we now number twenty-three.

Four of our Class are veterans of the World War, three of whom followed the Stars and Stripes to Sedan. Some are devoted athletes and will in the near future have their names among those of the Varsity. Several are studying for the ministry, having made enviable records as student pastors. Our musical talent is of such variety that we are proud of the individual accomplishments. Both in piano and voice several have won their initial "laurels." With their diversity of gifts, we believe that every member will gain pre-eminence of distinction in due time.

It is a pleasant reflection to know that we have added much to the spirit and life of Wesleyan Academy. We are looking to the future with optimism and hope, knowing that next year we will be sharing the vicissitudes of college life. Our little band of '21 will be the nucleus with a real Wesleyan spirit, around which the Freshmen college class will be formed.

We have felt it no small privilege, having the association of college people, from whom we have received inspiration and help, and a love for Wesleyan has grown within us which will always be held dear.

Class Editorial

A number of our Class entered Wesleyan Academy in 1919. When we returned to school last fall we reorganized, and found that there were not a few new students who were eligible for membership in our ranks. We heartily welcomed these, and have since formed friendships with them which will remain unbroken through life.

A lot of earnest workers constitute the membership of our Class. We believe the future holds a place of honor and trust for each of us, just as it awaits in confidence the coming of every Wesleyan student. We are very proud of one of our number who completes the prescribed course of study in the vocal department of the college with the Class of '21.

Besides those among us who possess such rare talent for the musical, we can justly boast of many who have great ability in the field of oratory.

As a Class, of which we feel every member is a very vital part, we look forward to much greater accomplishments, trying ever to keep our motto before us.

1. Alma Mater of the Mountains,
West Virginia Wesleyan,
At thy magic mystic fountains
Noblest dreams of life began.
    We, thy children, bow before thee;
    We, thy children, now adore thee
    And pledge God, who watches o'er thee,
    Thou shalt fill the ample measure of His plan.
2. Alma Mater, Queen of Learning,
Of the Orange and the Black,
At thy call to wisdom turning
Naught of worth thy sons shall lack.
    For the teaching of thy sages
    With the writ of sacred pages
    Will transmit the wealth of ages
    Down the future's ever wider, brighter track.
3. Alma Mater of the Highlands,
Guardian of romantic years,
Thou dost bring us to the skylands,
With thy faith dispel our fears.
    Give us friendships waning never
    And a call to high endeavor
    And companionship forever
    With the God who guides the courses of the spheres.

The Department of Education

The work in Education is organized into a College Department of Education and a Normal School. The object of the former is to prepare college students to teach in high school. Completion of a degree course with twenty-four hours in Education, including three hours of observation and practice teaching, entitles the prospective teacher to a high school certificate good for ten years without examination.

The Normal School offers a one-year course and the standard two-year course organized to train teachers for the elementary, grade and junior high schools. Admission to the former is possible with twelve units of preparatory work, and the course carries a certificate good for three years which can be renewed for three more without examination. Entrants to the standard course must present sixteen units. Upon completing the course they receive the standard Normal Certificate, which is good for ten years without examination. All certificates are issued by the State Board of Education upon recommendation of the Principal of the Normal School.

The work in Education is solidly founded on the principle that teaching is the highest art in the world. A most careful and systematic course of training is planned to the end of equipping high-minded and competent men and women with a body of professional knowledge, a code of professional ethics, and skill in professional action. The prospective teacher must know what the child is like, what he ought to be like in the future, and how to make the application of ideal aims and methods to the actual conditions of the classroom as he finds them. In addition this is a calling which above all demands people of broad general culture, cultivated sympathies and a large measure of far-sighted altruism.

In pursuance of the above-named requirements the college offers a well-rounded vocational course including—

I. Technical or theoretic training in educational subjects in which the student masters the subject matter he will teach and studies the physical, mental and moral growth of children, the forms of educational organization, and methods of teaching the various subjects.

II. Training for cultural insight through the study of the history of thought and educational institutions, lives of noted educators, and the part played by education in a synthetic theory of social control and social progress.

III. Concrete, practical, manipulative work carried on under actual professional conditions in the public schools of Buckhannon. This phase of the training is regarded as possibly the most important of all, and is under the supervision of an experienced critic teacher who devotes her whole time to the work.

Culture, sympathy and altruism are qualities which ought to thrive in a Christian college environment. Helpful friendships with fellow-students and with teachers, serious study, participation in the social and civic activities of the College and community, and the insistent urge toward self-forgetting service ought to prepare teachers for a useful and satisfying career.

Department of Public Speaking

MILDRED L. LITTLE

"The Orator persuades and carries all with him, he knows not how; the Rhetorician can prove that he ought to have persuaded and carried all with him."
—Carlyle.

The course of expression offered by Wesleyan College is primarily a course for personal culture. It seeks to awaken in the student of expression, whether he aims to be a creative thinker or an interpreter, a realization of his own potentialities, and to give such direction to his training that he may attain them.

The student is led to create ideals from a comprehensive study and keen appreciation of fine literature, and to form ideas from which he gains the ability to think for himself. To express knowledge is to understand it more thoroughly, and the greater one's understanding the greater will be his accuracy and power in delivery.

It is important that those whose aim is the ministry, law or public speaking should give attention to the subject of oratory. It is a mistake to suppose that excellence in speaking is simply a gift of nature and not the result of patient and persistent labor and study.

The course offered is of highest value, not only to those who have a professional end in view but to men and women who do not intend to make oratory a specialty. It is self-evident that a strong personality, a cultured and noble manhood, is infinitely superior to any tricks of voice or gesture. When a man loves the truth and lives it and can present it effectively to others he has received the best possible preparation for the work of life as well as for the work of oratory. "The greatest thing in oratory is the orator."

The Music Department

Although Wesleyan College is a school of Liberal Arts, it is doubtful if any college of Fine Arts offers a more intensive and comprehensive course in music. Every phase of musical study is touched upon. The courses include piano-forte, pipe organ and voice, and the study of musical history, harmony, theory and counterpoint.

The musical organizations of the school offer entertaining programs of a high order and, under the auspices of the department of music, recitals are given from time to time. The most popular programs are those given by the Glee Clubs, the College Orchestra and the Band.

The Men's Glee Club toured the State during the past season and met with unqualified success. Variety is the spice of a program and the home concert was spicy. The songs were carefully selected and the program was of real worth.

The Girls' Glee Club also made a successful trip through the north-western part of the State, concluding with a brilliant home concert.

The music faculty this season is composed of Prof. G. S. Bohanan, director of the department; Prof. F. E. Muzzy, instructor in voice and director of the Glee Clubs; Miss Irene Bohanan, assistant piano teacher, and Professor Miller, director of the orchestra and instructor in violin.

These persons are all well qualified to carry on the responsible work in which they are engaged, and the musical future of Wesleyan College is bright.

Art

Art is one of the purest and highest elements in human happiness. It trains the mind through the eye and the eye through the mind. It was man's earliest means of conveying thoughts and messages to others.

Browning has said: "It is the glory of good art that remains the one way possible of speaking truth."

Not until after the Revolution were Americans, in their new country, able to give much time to the study and development of art. First came portraiture and then landscape painting. From these the field of American art was broadened until at the present there is no thing complete without it. In all kinds of construction work we must think of form, balance, composition and perspective as well as color.

The object of this department is to offer a course in fine and applied arts as a part of a liberal education; to develop the individual's creative ability, and to prepare students for life work either as teachers, artists or designers. The work is closely allied with science, literature and nature.

"As the sun colors the flowers, so art colors life."

*"They talk about a woman's sphere as tho' it had a limit;
There's not a place in earth or heaven,
There's not a task to mankind given,
There's not a blessing or a woe,
There's not a whispered 'yes' or 'no,'
There's not a life, or death, or birth,
That has a feather's weight of worth—
Without a woman in it."*

The Department of Home Economics is functioning more efficiently this year than ever before in the history of the school. A high quality of instruction is given in Cookery, Chemistry of Foods, Dietetics, Household Management, Dress-making, Millinery, and Textiles. A study of the important scientific principles and processes involved is made along with the practical work and the subject becomes a real pleasure rather than a necessary duty.

Under the direction of Miss Seem, a graduate of Penn State, the girls are rapidly developing into well-informed and competent high school teachers, capable and constructive home makers, and loyal citizens of this great commonwealth of America.

Excelsior Literary Society follows out in true style the spirit set forth in its motto. It is pushing forward the work of developing the future leaders and statesmen of our great Commonwealth with its accustomed vigor and vivacity. There is no doubt that Excelsior has been of great value to the students of Wesleyan. Since we have no way of judging the future except by the past, we would be led to say that the training which all receive is very efficient, especially as regards to public speaking and leadership. The ease that the various members of Excelsior who have gone out from us have had in finding a place for themselves in the world speaks for itself, and it further proves that no one should go through college without connecting himself or herself in some way with society work.

The progress of this year's work has been very satisfactory, and with the end of the year drawing near a new and marked zeal is showing itself in a manner which is indicative of the success of Excelsior in the years to come. Many new members have been added, and the Society is safely grounded in the way of finance. A more wholesome interest is gradually being instilled in the more routine matters that are necessary for the safe conduct of the Society's business.

With the advent of the new administration of the Second Semester a Program Committee was brought into existence, and much of the work that has hitherto been left to the President was shifted to its shoulders. Owing to the efficient work of this Committee the programs have been interesting and instructive. The beneficial influence that this Committee has had cannot be too highly praised.

The present enthusiasm for society work is indeed good and the future for Excelsior is the very brightest. "Let us hope that Excelsior continues to be all that it has been in the past," for with that assured no loyal member of Excelsior would need to worry.

The year 1920-1921 was ushered in with a phenomenal increase in the membership roster of Chresto. We shall attempt no explanation of this pleasing fact; sufficient is it to say that the newcomers have become loyal and devoted followers of the glorious banner of Green and White.

The æsthetic and cultural values which justify the existence of a college literary society have ever been before us. While our fun makers have not failed in restoring the vim and fire of youth to minds made weary by lectures and collateral reading, yet there has always been an El Dorado of music, art and literature equal to the tastes of a classical connoisseur.

The year 1920-1921 has not been devoid of mountain peak experiences. Our enviable position in the realm of theatricals was made more secure by two added triumphs. The success scored by the regular annual offering—"The Fortune Hunter"—has never been surpassed in the history of our College. Within the next few years Chresto's cast will be making an annual tour—a la glee club.

The Faculty and the Board of Trustees have decided that the world can use a goodly number of Chresto's best sons and daughters. There go out from us this June some of the men and women who have added tomes to the annals of Chrestomatheanism. We knew that they were going, so we are prepared to take up the torch of literary enlightenment which must not languish in Wesleyan.

Long to be remembered and cherished dear in the hearts of the members of the Wesleyan Debating Club is the school year of '20 and '21. Years hence, when the world is continuing in its progress of civilization, many a learned man will delve deep into the pleasant spots of memory and in his reminiscences be heartily glad that he was once a member of this Club. Following a successful year in '19 and '20 by the annexation of the Harding Cup from our worthy opponents the Websterians, it would seem that all the great tasks had been accomplished. This was not entirely true and the Club started activities at the close of the football season. A number of new members were added to the roll, the entire lot being of our own choosing. However, before their acceptance into full and active membership they were subjected to a mild form of initiation, a journey over a rough and difficult road, on all sides beset with dangers, to that undiscovered room from which only the brave return. Practically all were able to survive and became our most enthusiastic supporters.

On the date of December 9, 1920, oratorical accomplishments flavored with mirth and good-fellowship reigned supreme at the second annual banquet of the Club. Each member added to the occasion by inviting that stimulus needed to make men eloquent in speech—namely, a lady friend whom we were pleased to entertain as our guest. The affair was declared a success and plans laid for a similar event next year.

The purpose of the Club is not only to develop the desire but also to train the ability for effective self-expression; to give schooling in the most towering height of forensic attainment possible; to produce that self-mastery in public speaking and private conversation that enables one to think quickly, clearly and efficiently. The realization of these aims is especially exemplified in the personnel of the Inter-Collegiate Team—Hoffman, Holloway, Bosley and Wolf—who in conjunction with the Webster Debating Club have represented themselves and their school with no little honor in a triangular debate with Bethany and Marietta Colleges.

A number of our members are Seniors. Those who will not return are better for having been in our midst. We have benefited because of their associations and accomplishments. To them go out the wishes of sincere friends for a broad and efficient life.

The aim of the Webster Debating Club is to inculcate and develop in each of its members a love and desire for effective self-expression, both conversational and public. In order to attain high aims it is necessary to have exemplary models. The most eminent orators who have served as patterns in our Club have been the persevering Demosthenes, the classical Webster, and the democratic Lincoln.

The Club meets in regular session on Tuesday evening of each week—meetings have been held regularly since the early part of the first semester. The increase of membership for the year has been phenomenal, the total increase being about 600 per cent. for the year. Each member of the Club is characterized by high scholastic attainments.

The debates have been well attended by a majority of all the members. As a whole, the debates have been above the average in thought, preparation and delivery. Every member of the Club has appeared in debate one or more times during the year, thus showing the interest of the Club in the development of each individual member.

The Webster Debating Club, in co-operation with the Wesleyan Debating Club, has arranged for a triangular meet: Marietta, Bethany, and Wesleyan. The Webster Debating Club is proud to have four strong debaters represent it in this triangular meet.

To our departing seniors we extend our sincere wishes for a truly successful life.

MASONIC CLUB

Wesleyan Masonic Club

Late in the first semester of this year the Masonic students of Wesleyan met and started the organization of a Masonic Club and elected officers for the remainder of the school year. Two months later the Wesleyan Masonic Club was officially organized and a constitution and by-laws adopted, and officers were elected for the ensuing year. Any Master Mason who is a member of a regular Masonic body and is a student, graduate, instructor, or otherwise connected with the college is eligible for membership. The object of the Club is to promote Masonic fellowship among the Masons of West Virginia Wesleyan College and with the craft at large.

The Pharos

*"Now I like to read the dailies
And the story papers, too,
And at times the "galler" journals
And some other trash, don't you?
But when I want some readin'
That'll brush away a frown
I want that little paper
From my dear ole college town."*

These are the sentiments of our alumni and fellow-students everywhere. Everyone who has had any association with Wesleyan enjoys reading "The Pharos." It is a "friend in a far country." Wesleyan students crowd the library on the day that "The Pharos" is out pushing, crowding, making a tremendous tug to get their copies of the spice of life. The front page is interesting because no one actually knows what has happened on the campus until he has read those glaring columns. Page two is interesting because it is filled with the peppiest, liveliest editorials ever penned by college students; page three is interesting for the same reason that page two is interesting. The organizations are full of society gossip with varying degrees of veracity. The alumni page eulogizes upon some noted alumnus each issue. The "Bolsheviki Column" produces some of the best, funniest, rarest jokes ever printed on black and white. On this page are delineated the most popular students; it is the "who's who" column of Wesleyan College. All athletic news is published in "The Pharos," and in fact all news of any kind that is worthy of publication appears therein.

"The Pharos" has vastly improved its past record. One alumnus has said: "Your paper is far better than I have ever known it before; keep up the good work."

MURMURMONTIS STAFF

Dear Readers:

It is almost with a feeling of regret that we have received the decree of time to cease our labors. It is also with a feeling of pleasure that we submit a record of the college life at Wesleyan for the present school year. Our work has been a pleasant experience. As you read these pages may you be able to stand upon the vantage ground of truth and judge that we have not discredited the task assigned us. If there are mistakes and omissions, tell us about it in a nice way. If there are features that deserve commendation, tell us in a like manner.

Years hence when our college life has waned into history, and in the evening when the twilight fades and you gather quietly in the pleasant firelight glow, you will reach to the bookshelf, take down an old copy of the MURMURMONTIS and read once again those musty pages published by the Class of '22. When you read once again those interesting and delightful days of campus memories forever fixed by their pleasantries, as you gaze into the fire and in your reminiscences say "This was a happy life," feel that we are glad.

Sincerely yours,

MURMURMONTIS '22.

Closely woven into the spiritual life of Wesleyan is the Y. M. C. A. Food for the mind and soul is necessary in all walks of life; to supply this is one of the objects of our Christian organizations. It is true that we cannot live a life apart from others if we are to attain the highest state of usefulness to society. The "Y. M." is one of the many organizations that help to bring one into this closer and better relationship to his fellow-men.

Under the capable leadership of our President, Joseph C. Hoffman, the Association has had the most successful year within the memories of any of the present members. Starting in September with the old membership and a good attendance, both have steadily increased to very gratifying proportions and have maintained this standard until the present. This is due no doubt to the unusual interest and character of the meetings. Never has there been a more capable group of leaders for the year. The subjects were all live ones and the discussions full of interest. At no time has self-satisfaction prevailed, nor has there been any hesitancy in bringing pressure to bear upon anything within the Association that is not for its best interests. Thus a wiser and a more constructive policy for the conduct of the "Y. M." has been developed. An acme of interest was reached in the week of special meetings early in February under the leadership of Dr. F. W. Hannon of Drew Theological Seminary. This is the second year Dr. Hannon has been with us, and it is hoped by all that he can be secured for next year.

The Y. M. C. A. lecture course, under the efficient management of W. S. Boyd, was a complete success. The course consisted of seven of the best attractions with the Coit Lyceum Bureau. The financial success of the course for the past two years has warranted the committee in securing eight numbers for next year. A highly artistic and educational course—in quantity—is assured.

Y. W. C. A.

Young Women's Christian Association

An organization is not justified in its existence unless it is a vital, living and accomplishing force. The Y. W. C. A. has been all of this during the past year. As a whole the Association has co-operated successfully with one of the most efficient presidents it has had in years, and, too, the cabinet has had an able ally and booster, The Advisory Board. Both The Advisory Board and the cabinet have had the same goal and have worked toward it constantly. The calibre of the newly elected cabinet predicts great accomplishments for the coming year.

HOMILETIC CLUB

Homiletic Club

That the students who are looking forward to the ministry as their lifework may be more adequately equipped for the task and that they might aid each other in deepening their own spiritual lives, the Homiletic Club was organized. This organization is composed of all ministerial students of the college. Meetings are held once each month, at which time papers are read and helpful talks are given by prominent preachers. On the first Sunday evening of each month the services at the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Buckhannon are under the direction of the Club and one of the members delivers the sermon.

Upon no group of students are there heavier responsibilities resting, and the zeal with which the affairs of this organization are conducted reveals the fact that the members realize their responsibilities. They are striving earnestly to prepare themselves to become laborers in a field that is white with harvest.

Student Volunteer Band

The Student Volunteer Band of Wesleyan is a part of a national movement which was organized at Williams College, Massachusetts, 1886, for the purpose of advancing the missionary spirit among the students of the American institutions of higher learning, its idea being not to work independently of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. but rather to co-operate with them in their various undertakings.

At the opening of school the organization met and reorganized with six regular members and two associate members. Marion Fortney was chosen president, with Genevieve Forsythe vice-president and Cameron Casto secretary.

Four of our members and two other Wesleyan students attended the Student Volunteer Conference, held at Salem College, Salem, W. Va., April 1, 2 and 3, 1921. This conference was attended by representatives from the different colleges throughout the State and will convene at Wesleyan next year. The inspiration gained from the association with these representative students and the messages brought to us of the world's startling needs by speakers who themselves had been in service on the foreign fields were very inspirational. The interest and enthusiasm manifested in this gathering made our motto, "The Evangelization of the World in This Generation," seem really possible.

The members of this year's band are Cameron B. Gasto, Genevieve Forsythe, Ruth Forsythe, Marion Fortney, Edwin P. Haught and Luella Hipkins, with the following as associate members: Miss Grace Seem, who is at the head of the Home Economic Department, and Yee Wing Hook, a Chinese student, who expects to return as a missionary to his own people upon the completion of his education.

IN MEMORIAM

SADIE MARGARET REXRODE

Sadie M. Rexrode was born in Monterey, Va., in 1882. She was a student in the Bible School of the University of Cincinnati and went to the Mission Field of Africa in 1907, where she worked faithfully and successfully for five years. She was granted a furlough and came to Wesleyan, graduating with the Normal Class of '17. She was a brilliant scholar and her wealth of experience made her presence an inspiration to all who knew her.

She returned to Africa in the spring of 1918, expecting to come home in 1923 on another furlough. Her first missionary work was in Old Umtali in the province of Rhodesia. Later she started the work at Mutambara and then returned to Old Umtali. She also helped to start the work at Mreus and was there at the time of her death.

Miss Rexrode died January 22, 1921, and was buried at Old Umtali near the church in which she worked. Hers was the first death of a missionary in that field in all the twenty-two years that they had been there.

She was an expert in African affairs. So far as we know she was our only student on the dark continent, but Wesleyan ideals have doubtless been well preached and practiced in Rhodesia, where she labored for practically a dozen years.

Her letters home were full of optimism and her source of strength in that apparently lonesome field were her alma mater and all she stands for, and the ever-present consciousness which abides with those who give up much that the pagan may be civilized and the Gospel of Christ be carried "unto the ends of the earth."

The Methodist Episcopal Church has lost a great missionary, and thousands of Rhodesians in darker Africa have lost a wise counselor and constant friend.

Y. M. C. A. Lecture Course---1920-1921

The Lecture Course conducted by the Y. M. C. A. of Wesleyan College is one of the most valuable activities of the student life of the entire College. Due to its existence, the people of the town of Buckhannon, as well as the students, are afforded the very best talent that can be attained. We believe that our course is second to none in the State. This year it was made possible for every single student in the College to obtain a ticket for the course, the expense of which was met by the incidental fee which the students pay in connection with their tuition. This plan met with approval on all sides and will doubtless be continued in the future.

During the past year the Lecture Course has received splendid support. It has been a pleasure to the committee to engage in this work. Mindful of the fact that Wesleyan wants the best that can be obtained, we present the course below which has been engaged for the season of 1921-1922:

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Athletic Council

Until the spring of 1920 the athletic program of West Virginia Wesleyan College had been controlled by a single individual in the person of the Athletic Director. Soon after the Christmas recess in 1920 President W. B. Fleming and Athletic Director R. W. Shumaker started a movement to inaugurate an Athletic Council. A new constitution was drafted and approved by the student body and the College faculty. An organization was effected for a Council, which at present consists of six active members and a chairman.

The power of the Council extends over all financial matters of the Athletic Association and regulates the coaching systems, schedules, etc. Only matters pertaining to coaches go before the Board of Trustees, and then only as a process of ratification.

The Athletic Council for the present year contains the following personnel:

Senator G. C. Arnold.....	Alumni Member
Horace H. Withers.....	Alumni Member
Richard Aspinall.....	Faculty Member
O. Earle Karickoff.....	Faculty Member
Bruce McWhorter.....	Student Member
Joseph Hoffman.....	Student Member

VARSITY CLUB

Varsity Club

At the close of the football season of 1920 the necessity of having a club organized among the athletic circles to maintain harmony and good fellowship among the athletes as well as a clubroom where ex-Wesleyan athletes could be entertained, was seen. A meeting was held and the constitution of the Wesleyan Varsity Club was adopted.

In view of the fact that Wesleyan is rapidly growing it is of the utmost importance that we should have the co-operation of all wearers of the "W" to make this organization a success.

It is our aim to obtain a club house where the athletes can associate and mingle together. This will promote good fellowship among the men and indirectly better our athletics. We will then be able to entertain all former athletes when they return to visit their Alma Mater.

The members of the Club are as follows: Chalmers Ault, James Carskadon, Beecher Dunn, M. T. Hamrick, Albert Krushank, Ralph Martz, William McCusky, Earl Neel, Hale Pauley, Don B. Potter (president), Harold O. Potter, John Post, Lester W. Radmon, Mahre Stark and Harry Stansbury.

WILLIAM SNEDEGAR, Captain

"Dad" was a great general of a great team. In mobilizing his forces and concentrating his attack, he cannot be surpassed. It was his leadership that won our victories and saved us from disastrous defeat.

LESTER W. RADMON, Halfback

Here is the fleetest little halfback on the field. When you went to tackle him he just wasn't there. "Rad" could get more applause from the bleachers than anyone on the team.

DAVID D. HILL, End

After the first game on September 25 Hill held the left terminal position with great credit. He was always down quick under punts and featured in defensive play.

HAROLD POTTER, Fullback

Harold started the season at left end, but was soon shifted to the back-field to fill the position of a big full-back. He is an aggressive player and particularly fond of making touchdowns.

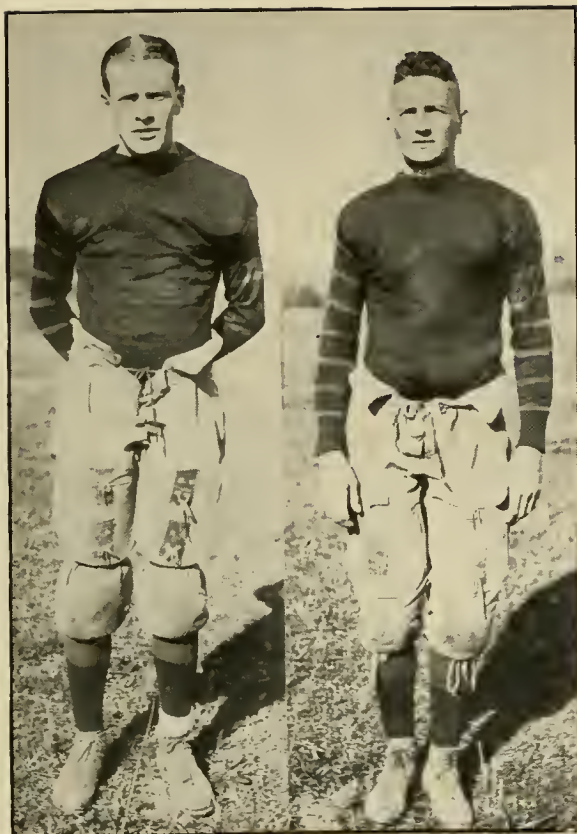

CECIL ROSS, Halfback and Quarter

"Cebe" played more or less in all the backfield positions this year. He was in practically every game, showing to especial advantage on the defensive against the University.

HENRY ROHRBAUGH, Center

"Hen" was the center of the whole team. If the other team tried to center anything, they usually didn't. His passes were quick, snappy and hit the spot.

JAMES CARSKADON, End

"Jimmie" has more nerve to the square inch than any man on the team. His fighting qualities are of such a kind that won't stay licked. We've only one regret: that he isn't a little bigger.

JOHN PITT ROHRBAUGH

John was a utility wing man who made all Varsity trips, receiving his letter for taking part in practically all the games of the season. Not half bad for a 145-pounder, is it?

ALBERT J. KRUSHANK, Tackle

"Crush" was the old head on the line. In other words, he was "Bob" Higgins' right-hand man. His defense was a hulwark of power; his offense an irresistible force. His example of training and clean sportmanship was one to be commended.

DON B. POTTER, End

Don is a great favorite of the fans. If some one made a yard on him, he usually dared him to do it again. He constituted the receiving end of the aerial game so bewildering to many of our opponents.

MAHRE STARK, Halfback

Stark is a line plunger of high caliber. His ability in advancing the ball far excels that in the art of long division. He has played his last college game and we wish him success in his new undertaking, namely, the great American game—baseball.

CHARLES W. QUARLES, Guard

“Pat’s” ability to plug up the line was an advantageous feature on the defense. His “Come on, boys!” was a big incentive for offensive work. He is rated high among the cake eaters.

JOHN MONAHAN, Halfback

Monohan was a good backfield man and a competent judge of offensive play. His ability came out in the contest with W. and J. when he was acting at quarter.

RALPH MARTZ, Tackle

"Emmie" was a veteran line man of '17 and a good judge of line plays. "Have you anything you want to send in, Coach?"

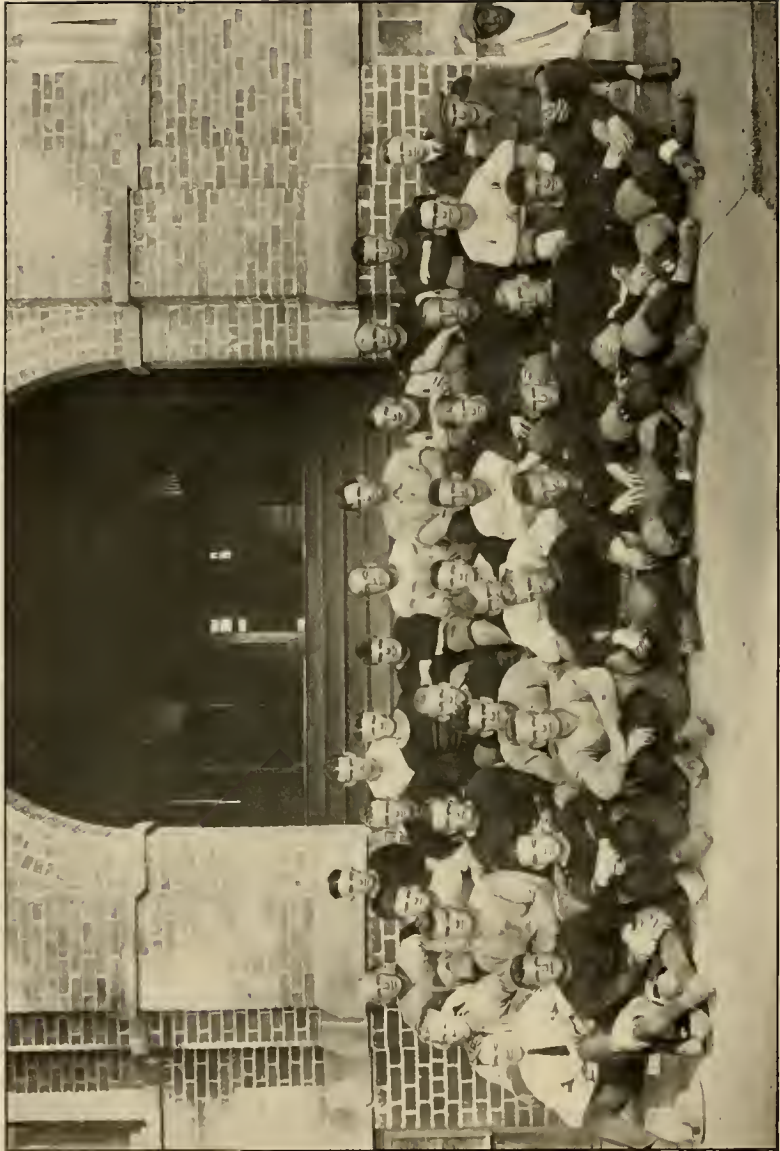

GEORGE D. BOYD, Guard

Dolliver is a big husky line man, officiating at guard or tackle. He is a bear cat on the defense and equally good on the offense. He showed to good advantage against Grove City.

WILLIAM SCHNOOBERGER, Guard

Early in the season "Schnoo" was eliminated by sickness and prevented from demonstrating the power concealed within his massive frame. He is a good rover and will no doubt be a good husband.

Football, 1920

Following an uneventful year in 1919, the 1920 football eleven of West Virginia Wesleyan marched through a season of success and satisfaction. Not all of the games were won, but probably there has never been a Wesleyan eleven which entertained such a fine spirit and such fighting qualities as the eleven of 1920. Above all, the brand of football played by Wesleyan during the season just passed was the best that an Orange and Black eleven has ever produced.

Starting back in the winter of 1919-1920, the Athletic Council of Wesleyan sought the services of some modern football player who had the qualifications of rejuvenating the hopes of the Methodists. This man was found in the person of Robert A. Higgins, All-American end, Penn State, 1919. Higgins gave Wesleyan the best coaching the team has ever had. He developed a fine spirit among his men, taught them the high qualities of perseverance, and undoubtedly upheld the highest morals of any Wesleyan team in football history here. He was ably assisted by John L. Felton, former Dickinson star, whose motto has been and is today "Merit cannot lose."

Wesleyan's 7-7 tie with W. and J., the fast games with Marietta and victories over all colleges considered as in the same class were the outstanding features of what may be termed the best all-round season the Methodists have ever enjoyed.

BASKET-BALL '21

Basket-ball, 1921

Wesleyan proudly boasted the best basket-ball quint during the season of 1921 that the College has ever produced. Coached by C. C. Reeder, popular baseball mentor, and made up of flashy individuals who sacrificed their individual glory for the success of the team, the five drove through a season of dazzling success.

The handicap of having no gymnasium in which to practice until ten days before the most important trip of the year was solely responsible for the defeat handed to Wesleyan by Pitt, W. and J. and Carnegie Tech. Had any of these fives been played after the team got into condition, there is no doubt but that Wesleyan would have gone through the season without tasting defeat at home or abroad from the tossers of a collegiate set.

The twin backset handed Marietta College by Wesleyan carries with it ample prestige to make the season outstanding for years to come. The individuals whose names should be carved into the recesses of the Hall of Fame for the year now waned into history are: Capt. Jimmie Johnson and Cecil Ross, forwards; Don Potter, center, and Mahre Stark and John Rohrbaugh, guards.

BASEBALL '20

Baseball, 1920

Another collegiate championship was annexed by Wesleyan when the Methodists won the third game of a quartette series scheduled with Bethany College. But one collegiate game was dropped during the year, and to Bethany goes the honor of making the lone dent in the Wesleyan record. A twin bill with W. and J., ancient diamond rivals, was also annexed by the Buckhannon collegians.

The schedule was not an extensive one, inasmuch as the schedule was arranged at a late date. C. C. Reeder, who coached the nine, handled the situation with great success, taking a new combination and rounding it into a neat machine. Captain Dunn at third and Beck in the outfield were the only real veterans on the squad. The nine developed into a hard-slugging diamond aggregation, but always playing fast inside baseball. The team had a high fielding average and was not scored on heavily.

The line-up was as follows: Johnson, ss.; Dunn (captain), 3b.; Stark, c.; Beck, lf.; Ross, 1b.; Fisher, 2b.; Roberts, rf.; Milliron, cf.; Burns and McKinstry, pitchers.

STATE CHAMPIONS

Eighth Annual State Basket-Ball Tournament

The eighth annual State high school basket-ball tournament held at Wesleyan College, March, 17, 18, 19, 1921, proved to be the greatest athletic event of its kind ever staged in the history of West Virginia Wesleyan. The magnitude of the whole occasion far excelled that of last year. Fifty-seven teams entered the contest with fifty-seven different styles of play. This number far exceeded the entries for any previous tournament, being nine more than in 1920.

For the accommodation of the teams and visitors, special trains ran to Elkins, Weston, Fairmont, and Clarksburg during the playing sessions and after the contest was over.

Even from the most remote parts of the State teams backed by enthusiastic supporters of the floor game came in countless numbers. Visitors poured in by the wholesale and the quiet little college town of Buckhannon was transformed into a gay and busy metropolis. The citizens of Buckhannon threw open wide their doors and extended to all a hospitable welcome. We wish to express our heartfelt thankfulness and appreciation for their service in this manner.

Cheering delegations from Fairmont, Clarksburg, Weston, Charleston, Elkins, Grafton, Buckhannon, and Bluefield were present with all their varieties of organized chaos. Excitement was intense. Reason ran wild, and again and again shouts of encouragement were accorded to the victors, while cheers of approval and sympathy rang out for those who had lost, who had played a clean hard game and lost like men. The organized cheering was better this year than ever. Spirited rivalry was maintained until the end and it was a difficult matter for the judges to decide upon the winners of the Fleming Loving Cup. Finally it was awarded to Buckhannon III.

The Wesleyan Gym is now the largest in the State, the playing floor measuring 170x70 feet. Two courts were used for the preliminaries, but the finals were played on the larger central court. Davis of Carnegie and Watkins of East Liverpool, Ohio, acted the important role of official referees. Both are past masters at this task and their decisions accepted without comment.

The Tournament was planned and directed by R. W. Shumaker, Director of Athletics of Wesleyan College, whose ability as an executive cannot be questioned. He was assisted by a large percentage of the student body whose organized efforts made the workings of the event to read like a story book.

The brand of basket-ball produced was superior to that of former years. Several players of college calibre were seen in action. Dark horses failed to appear this year and the results show a comparatively accurate comparison of the abilities of the teams engaged. The winner of the tournament, Buckhannon III, was presented with a large silver basket-ball, regulation size, and solid gold basket-balls to each member of the team. The runners up, Charleston, received a handsome loving eup, and solid gold basket-balls for each man on the team.

The Tournament ended a magnificent success. There is no cloud on the horizon to darken the future of the Tournament of '22. May we all work together to that aim to develop throughout the State a true Wesleyan spirit and an added interest in the field of high school and collegiate athletics.

Confessions of a Freshman

(MY DIARY FOR 1923-24)

Sept. 13—All us students, new and old, arrive at Wesleyan. Pop and me came in on the Tygart's Junction Flyer.

Sept. 14—Pop went home after putting me in a Miss Raymond's care.

Sept. 15—Took in the Excelsior doings. All the girls seemed anxious to meet me.

Sept. 16—Some of the fellows think I have a good voice—any-way they took me upon the campus and made me sing.

Sept. 17—Another party over in the Gym. This time by those who call themselves Chrestomatheans.

Sept. 18—Both societies wanted me to attend their meetings. Decided to go to the movies.

Sept. 19—Did I not go to church? Yes, I did not.

Sept. 20—Had a letter from Pop. Homesick.

Sept. 21—Went to Y. M. and Y. W. reception. "Weenies" and a nice walk.

Sept. 22—I helped the "campus cats" serenade the Hall.

Sept. 24—Have my Dime Bank almost full. Am saving up to go to the W. V. U. game.

Sept. 25—Went to the game. Came home broke in purse and heart, too.

Oct. 5—Was advised to major in Campusology.

Oct. 6—I am having hard work to keep up my three courses in Penmanship.

Oct. 8—Asked some of the Profs. about Campusology. They didn't encourage me.

Oct. 9—Went into Young's Drug Store for a sody. Couldn't find any chairs around the tables so came home without it.

Oct. 11—Elias Haught and me is great chums.

Oct. 12—Columbus' holiday. I sure would like to meet that fellow.

Oct. 13—The Juniors had a party. They said they liked it all but the ice-cream.

Oct. 14—Football team went to Georgetown.

Oct. 18—Bill McCusky caught a chicken that had its life insured. Insurance did no good because it met a fowl death.

Oct. 19—Everybody planning some kind of a picnic.

Oct. 21—Had a look at the stars through one of those there long microscopes.

Oct. 22—Meade St. Beamery and Ward Club fridders meet in a hot contest.

Oct. 23—Played Thiel. Won with score 21-0.

Oct. 27—New Glee Club members appear with an addition to their wearing apparel.

Oct. 28—My two pairs of silk socks and my other shirt got burned in the laundry fire.

Y's and Other Y's

MAKE THE WORLD GO 'ROUND

Prof. Muzzy—What is the technical name for snoring?

Red Williams—Sheet music.

"Seen Al?"

"Al who?"

"Al Cohol, Kero sene him the last day of March but he ain't benzine since."

Prof. Karickoff—Mr. Harshbarger, where was the Declaration of Independence signed?

"At the bottom, sir."

Beech Dunn (from jail window)—Hey, Jumbo, what time is it?

Smitty (looking at his watch, then replacing it)—What's the difference? You ain't going nowhere.

I used to think I knew I knew,
But now I must confess
The more I know I know I know
I know I know the less.

A postmaster received a letter addressed thus: Wood

<sup>a</sup>
Mass.

He finally puzzled it out thus:

A. Underwood
Andover,
Mass.

"Stop, look, listen."

The reflective man stopped to read the railroad warning.

"Those three words illustrate the whole scheme of life," he said.

"How?"

"A pretty girl—you stop; you look; after you marry her, you listen."

Displeased Student—I don't like these photos at all. I look like an ape.

Miss MacAvoy—You should have considered that before you had them taken (and she turned back to her work on the Murrumootis).

Prof. Harvey—This agricultural bulletin says that Kansas will harvest four crops of alfalfa this year. "Miss Ayres, what is alfalfa?"

Phyllis—Why-y, why Professor, alfalfa is a sort of breakfast food for cows.

Customer—Have you felt slippers?

Roy Price—Yes; when I was a boy.

"Can your wife sing?"

"No, but she does."

Margaret—Wouldn't you like to start the victrola?

Brooks—No, why?

Margaret—It's about time you started something.

"This is an editorial on brevity. We practice what we preach."

"Many a woman is blamed for making a fool of a man when he is really self-made."

Mistress—I should think you would be ashamed to let that policeman kiss you.

Maid—Yes, but I can't resist the law, can I?

Teacher—Why is cleanliness next to Godliness?

Pupil—Because it comes next to Sunday.

Dean Haught who lost a fountain pen with a Conklin cap, remarked; "If it had had its own cap on, perhaps it might not have gotten lost."

Florence Carrol—I'm so afraid I'll marry the wrong man.

Helel Burns—There isn't any.

Emery Wise—How's the live stock, Stark?

Stark coming up the walk with Betty—What-dyee mean, live stock?

I don't keep any cattle but I do have a dear.

Picture Jack Byrne and Kathaleene Curry gaily skipping down the walk after the presentation of "The Furtune Hunter.

Sky Jack—What ye think you're celebrating, the last act?

Kathleene—No, there's another one coming.

Bruce McWhorter—Do you believe in heredity, Professor?

Prof. Aspinall—I certainly do. Why, for instance, is my boy Sammie always trying to get his toes in his mouth if it isn't because of his Dad's constant struggle to make both ends meet?

Y's and Other Y's

MAKE THE WORLD GO 'ROUND

Inez (reading from rural sociology text)
—Cleo, what does hogs on the hoof mean?

Cleo—My dear, hogs on the hoof is a delicious concoction of nourishment similar to chicken on toast.

Customer—The price of these shoes seems high. Wasn't there something said about a movement to have it reduced?

Douglass—Yes, but it's not on foot yet.

Virginia Sharps—Wouldn't you like to see yourself as others see you?

Arthur Upton—No, I would like to look better than that.

MONEY

You're a blockhead if you lend it,

You're a miser if you won't.

You're a spendthrift if you spend it,

You're a tightwad if you don't.

The Business Manager of the MURMURMONTIS has been heard to mutter in his sleep: Don't mistake your calling. If you have brains, go into business. If you haven't, go into society.

This world is old and likes to laugh,
New jokes are hard to find;
A whole new editorial staff
Can't tickle every mind.
So if you meet some ancient joke
Decked out in modern guise,
Don't frown and call the thing a fake;
Just laugh—don't be too wise.

Curtis—Where is my crazy bone?
Wolf—Did you ever examine your head?

Freshmen—Irresponsible
Sophomores—Irrepressible
Juniors—Irresistible
Seniors—Irreproachable

Mary—Do you like popcorn balls?
Bab—I don't know. I never attended aoy.

In Massachusetts a man who speaks ten tongues has just married a woman who speaks seven. We are betting on the lady.

"How do the Boyds like their two-room kitchenette apartments?"
"Oh! they have no room for complaint!"

When Prof. Scott sent a girl home to wash the paint from her face and the dye from her hair, he evidently didn't believe in the saying that "the good dye young."

Teacher—Which is more useful, the sun or the moon?

Pupil—The moon, of course. It shines at night, but the sun shines in the daytime when we don't need it.

What is home without a mother?

Dad is mad as fury;

He has had no lunch to day—

Mother's on the jury.

Dick Thompson—I suppose it would be improper for me to kiss you on such a short acquaintance?

Kitty—Yes, but it is quite early in the evening yet.

"I was down at the river today and saw a lemon floating on the water. It started to sink, so I threw a rope to it."

"What did you do that for?"

"Just to give the lemon-ade."

"Do you know what they call toothpicks in Chicago?"

"No. What?"

"Toothpicks."

City Lad—I suppose you hatch all the chickens yourself?

Gould—No, we have hens to do that?

The Joy of Living

Very often we are inclined to believe that life is simply a monotonous round of care. Every day we see the same faces and the same old familiar sights. The same commonplace, uninspiring tasks are always waiting to be performed. The great things which we would like to do must ever be left undone. It seems that while it is given to others to scale the sunlit heights of achievement, we must forever spend our years in the solitary "desert of waiting." To us there is, indeed, nothing new under the sun. Yet we forget that, in the main, what we get out of life depends upon our attitude toward it. Happiness depends not upon position but upon disposition. One man may be rich in blessings and still feel that life is vanity and vexation of spirit; another may go through the world with empty hands and a lonely heart and yet be able to say with Browning,

"How good is man's life, the mere living! How fit to employ
All the heart and the soul and the senses forever in joy."

For the joy of life we are not altogether dependent upon the world without. Experience has two sides: The objective and the subjective—the life without and the life within. If we cannot make our external world what we would like to have it, we are supreme lords and absolute masters over the one that is within. We are so well satisfied with life upon the surface that we fail to explore the hidden depths of our own souls. Whether the world around us shall bring us joy or misery is determined by the thoughts of the heart, for out of it are the issues of life.

In reference to happiness, we mostly find what we are looking for.

"Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be!"

If we believe that life's golden days are somewhat hidden in the misty backgrounds of the past, very likely such is the case; but if we keep our faces to the front, we shall find our best years looming before us, resplendent against the eastern horizon. It is not easy for us to understand the truth uttered by the old Greek philosopher when he said, "Nothing evil can happen to a good man." Yet he was merely asserting the supremacy of the inner life.

The same external conditions influence different individuals in different ways. One character is ruined by prosperity; another is beautified by adversity. This man travels over land and sea yet finds nothing but emptiness; that one spends his days at a country cross-road but sees in every day a "bringer of new things." There are those who do not see because there is no vision. To them the blooming, heaven-encompassed world is a wasteful chaos. But when the eye hath vision

"This world's no blot for us,
Nor blank; it means intensely and it means good."

Then every experience is a stepping-stone to victory; from all with whom we come into contact we learn lessons long and deep; the rough old earth with her mountains and valleys is "the living garment of God"; grandeur is nigh unto our dust and the infinite is near to man; life, death and the vast forever gleam before us as a grand sweet song.

A NIGHT IN JUNE

On such a night as this the sweet winds did gently kiss the trees, and we Juniors did saunter forth in pairs to view the stars. On such a night as this, with a companion, one did not miss a single joy of all the universe. The Sophs did gently stroll about the Campus hazily dreaming of air castles and future greatness. And the lovers standing beneath the stars in the shadow of the trees did happily wish that such a night would never end.

'Twas a night of love. The breezes did cause the leaves to flutter in a kind of active restlessness, and then to die in a seemingly endless silence. There was a freshness in the very atmosphere. The fragrance of roses filled the air, wafted to and fro by the breezes returning to active life. The youthful grass did run and skip in its blitheful happiness.

'Twas a night of love. A night for fairest women and the hearts of bravest men. "Soft eyes looked love to eyes that spake again." The time passed all too soon and the night faded into the early hours of morning. In the heavens above the stars closed their eyes as the lovers parted and bade their fond good-nights. The wise old Man in the Moon smiled a big broad smile and turned to the Lady in the Moon, taking both her hands in his own, while she contentedly laid her head on his shoulder, a true woman, knowing that she too could keep a secret: And from the heavens above the Creator looked down and saw an atmosphere of love; and He was content for He knew that it was good.

—A Bachelor.

OH, THOSE COLLEGE DAYS

You may travel this wide world over
From London to New York town;
As you travel around and go up and down,
You think of the girls who have won renown;
How suffraget leaders with hatpin and mace
Have all worked together to win them a place.

I've stood at the corner of Broadway
Watching beauties and vampires galore.
Dark beauties and fair blonde young maidens;
They passed by and then there came more.
But thru my brain flashes a vision
That is clear to my mind even yet
Of the girls of Wesleyan College,
Of the girls I can never forget.
Of girlish with blue eyes and dimples,
Or brown eyes and dark glossy curls,
Each fit for the brush of an artist—
Those pretty, vivacious young girls.
Those sweet evening walks on the campus
Cause my brain to turn madly in whirls;
Their favorite game a game of hearts,
Those lovable, kissable girls.

West Virginia Conference Epworth League Institute
OR
The College Campus and Vacation for Methodist
Young People

(Rev. Jacob Elbert Wells, President, W. Va., Conf. Ep. League since 1912)

THE INSTITUTE

"TOOT, toot, make your preparation,
Toot, toot, come to Wesley-an;
There are fine folks to be met,
And a jolly time, you bet,
At the Institute-titute-titute-titute."

(Chorus composed by President Fleming at the first Institute.)

Tune, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching.")

For two or three years the Institute was but a dream in the heart of the Conference President and a few others. Even Dr. Sheridan, then General Secretary, feared the W. Va. Conference could not maintain an Institute. But the optimists insisted that it could be done. The way was paved by introducing some Institute features into the Convention held at Clarksburg, June, 1914. Dr. Sheridan was invited to the Convention at Morgantown, November 1-3, 1916, to give inspiration and instructions. He defined the Institute as "A College, a Circus, and a Camp Meeting all in one." The dream came true. The Epworth League Institute was born.

An organization was formed and Rev. J. E. Wells, Rev. J. B. Workman, Rev. Roy McCusky, President W. B. Fleming, Arthur H. Stricklin, and Rev. Claude E. Goodwin were appointed as an Executive Committee to arrange for an Institute to be held during the summer of 1917. The Institute is now a part of the annual calendar of Wesleyan College. The attendance has increased yearly: August 4-12, 1917—90; August 10-18, 1918—180; August 9-17, 1919—240; August 9-15, 1920—300.

The following is a record of service rendered in making the Institute a success: Faculty: Rev. J. Elbert Wells (Dean, Stewardship) 4 years; Mrs. J. Elbert Wells (Dean of Women) 4 years; Rev. Roy McCusky (Sr. Methods, Chairman Program Committee) 4 years; President Wallace B. Fleming (Life Work) 4 years; Rev. E. A. Lowther (Old Testament) 3 years; Prof. Richard Aspinall (New Testament) 4 years; Rev. C. H. Beall (Missions) 4 years; Rev. L. B. Bowers (Social Service) 8 years; Rev. C. E. Goodwin (Sacred Song) 3 years and Personal Evangelism 1 year; Rev. B. W. Roberts (Recreational Director) 1 year; Rev. H. B. Moose (Registrar) 1 year; Mrs. H. B. Moose (Asst. Dean of Women) 2 years; Mrs. W. L. Mathoney (Asst. Dean of Women) 3 years; Mrs. Denver C. Pickens (Asst. Dean of Women) 2 years; Lynn Rohrlaugh (Registrar) 2 years; Dr. F. M. Farnsworth (Secretary), Director of Publicity) 3 years; Rev. C. W. Wise (Recreational Director) 1 year; Miss Emma A. Robinson (Junior Methods) 2 years; Rev. Ralph C. Brown (Studies in Church Work) 2 years; Miss Mary Jane Arbuthnot (Junior Methods) 1 year; Rev. H. C. Howard (Personal Evangelism) 3 years; Mrs. Anna Lewis Fitch (Junior Methods) 3 years; Mrs. Roy McCusky (Junior Methods) 1 year; Rev. James E. Scott (Social Service, Christian Citizenship) 2 years; Rev. O. A. Kelley (Rural Church Work) 2 years; Prof. Aaron H. Rapping (Rural Church Work) 1 year; Rev. John W. Meredith (Registrar) 1 year; Rev. Denver C. Pickens (Recreational Director) 2 years; Rev. B. T. Trevy (Home Missions) 2 years. Many others have rendered loyal service. The work of the Buckhannon Chapter has been invaluable.

It is only just that we give due credit for the success of the Institute to whom it really belongs. To the Dean of the Institute, Rev. J. Elbert Wells, and his energetic little wife is accorded this honor. Their pleasing personality has made them general favorites among the young people with an influence elevating the ideals and aspirations of the Leaguers throughout the State.

The Institute week is packed with religion, learning, and fun—the early morning for devotion, the forenoon for class work, the afternoon for recreations, the evenings for a varied program. The motto is "A Vacation with a Purpose." The atmosphere is Christian. The spirit of service and consecration is everywhere manifest. The highest ideals and loftiest aspirations are dominating the hearts of the young people. All is mingled with unadulterated joy bubbling from the crystal fountain of life at high levels. The climax of the week is reached in the never-to-be-forgotten Life Work Service on Sunday afternoon. Nearly two hundred and fifty life work decisions have been made in the four years.

The Institute committee is planning for a larger attendance and a still greater Institute the coming August.

DEPARTMENTS: College of Liberal Arts, Normal School Offering Both Standard and Short Normal Courses, School of Expression, School of Fine Arts, School of Music, Academy.

Short courses in Civil Engineering and in Domestic Science and Art are given. The College is located near the geographical center of West Virginia and is nestled in a wide valley between beautiful mountain ranges. In every way the location is ideal. Wesleyan is 1,500 feet above sea level, and the pure, fresh, mountain air is conducive to health and to the best efforts upon the part of every student striving for higher learning.

The Wesleyan Faculty is composed of graduates of the best schools in Europe and America. The equipment is modern, the Haymond Science Hall and the big Gymnasium having recently been completed and equipped. Expenses are moderate, and every inducement is offered to the young men and women of West Virginia and adjacent states that they may gain a higher education without great cost.

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Have you thought about Life Insurance as a life profession?

There is no established business or profession where so little cash capital is required, and where HARD WORK represents such a large proportion of the requirements for success.

The Northwestern Agency in West Virginia is a young man's organization. It has an unusually large proportion of college-trained men in its ranks.

This Agency is known throughout the United States for the number of young men having special scholastic training for Life Insurance work which it has—and for the rapid advancement which they are making.

Are you interested in getting into a profession which offers opportunity limited only by your energy and ability, and connecting yourself with a progressive, aggressive organization?
